

References to Canada and the US in the JBS Journal

| Journal Issue | Page | Author (when given) and title of article  |
|----------------------|-------------|--|
| 1 (Spring 1980)      | 9–10        | Kirk-Greene, A. H. M; 'John Buchan and Empire' (contains paragraph on Canada)  |
| 4 (Autumn 1984)      | 1–3         | Buchan, John; 'Jargon of the Age' ('Slang' in American Films and Books)  |
|                      | 24          | Announcement of Seminar on John Buchan and Canada at Newbattle Abbey, Sep 1985   |
| 5 (Summer 1985)      | iii         | Editorial: 'Canada's Governor General, 1935–1940'  |
|                      | 1–2         | Morley, William F. E; 'John Buchan in Canada'  |
|                      | 9           | Unattributed paragraphs: 'The Governor-General's Literary Awards'  |
| 6 (Autumn 1986)      | 2–3         | Two Letters from Buchan, describing his work in Canada and a visit to Washington DC in 1937  |
|                      | 4–8         | Buchan, John; 'Down North', describing a journey in Northern Canada  |
|                      | 9–14        | Collins, Bruce; 'John Buchan and the Empire in 1935'; includes much on Canada  |
|                      | 15–16       | Bell, John; 'Tweedsmuir as Patron' (of Canadian literature)  |
|                      | 29          | 'Letters Received', including appreciation of Buchan's life by a young American studying at McGill University in 1938, and by three different Canadians                                |
| 7 (Winter 1987)      | 6           | Buchan, J. W. H. de l'A; 'John Buchan and the Great War', contains analysis of Buchan's Milton Academy (Massachusetts) speech comparing WWI with the US Civil War                      |
| 15 (Summer 1996)     | 20–22       | Neel, Samuel E.; 'JB at Yale', citation for honorary degree and Buchan's response (part of the response, p 21, is missing from the website)  |
| 17                   | 31–7        | Redley, Michael; 'Making Democracy Safe for the World: a note on John Buchan's Political Career', includes references to Buchan's activity re the US and in Canada                     |
|                      | 38          | Pudlo, M. A.; John Buchan's Americanism in the First World War   |
| 18 (Spring 1998)     | 2–4         | Reprint of Time Magazine article: 'New Viceroy', Canada, 1935   |
|                      | 14–22       | Neel, Samuel E & Taylor, Malcolm; 'Reliving History: A Wilderness Trip through Tweedsmuir Park, Canada, August 1996'   |
| 19 (Autumn 1998)     | 2–4         | Buchan, John; 'Harvard Commencement Address' 1938  |
| 20 (Spring 1999)     | 4–5         | Lord Tweedsmuir; 'Letter and Poem of Appreciation' for his first ADC as Governor-General   |
|                      | 33–34       | MacRobert, A. E.; 'A Throne for a Prince', account of Buchan story about a party of 18th-century Americans who hope to persuade the current Stuart pretender to become King of America |
|                      | 40          | 'Notes and Queries', a former Bishop of the Arctic remembers meeting Lord Tweedsmuir during one of his official visits to the region   |
|                      | 41          | 'Notes and Queries', a memory of a very brief speech by Lord Tweedsmuir in 1937/8  |
| 22 (Spring 2000)     | 22–31       | Redley, Michael; 'John Buchan at Milton Academy' (Massachusetts)   |
|                      | 33          | Galbraith, J William; 'Does Canada still remember its Literary Governor-General?'  |
|                      | 36          | Notes and Queries: Lady Tweedsmuir in Canada   |
| 23 (Autumn 2000)     | 1–4         | King, W. L. Mackenzie; A Tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir on His Passing'  |
|                      | 5–7         | Jeffrey, John W.; 'Memories of JB in Canada (letters to William Galbraith)   |
|                      | 36          | Notes: 'Donation', Buchan's 'Two Ordeals of Democracy' only published in the US  |
| 24 (Spring 2001)     | 3           | Buchan, John; 'On England and America' (text of 1934 speech)   |
| 25 (Autumn 2001)     | 22          | Passing mention of the use of Buchan's name during the controversy in the US over Roosevelt and the New Deal   |

| Journal Issue | Page | Author (when given) and title of article   |
|----------------------|-------------|---|
| 26 (Spring 2002)     | 18          | Redley, Michael; 'Island of Sheep', B's first book with the title 'Island of Sheep' contained an implied critique of American isolationism in the years after WWI   |
|                      | 37–39       | Abbott, D. M.; 'John Buchan and Lord Lothian' contains, p 38, a statement that Buchan was interested in the post of Ambassador to the US before becoming Governor-General, and still hoping for a role involving the US in the future |
| 27 (Autumn 2002)     | 34–36       | Galbraith, J. William; 'The Canadian and the Crown: How John Buchan paved the way for Vincent Massey, the first non-British Governor-General'   |
| 28 (Spring 2003)     | 40          | 'North America, which Buchan saw as the sheet anchor of liberal democracy'  |
| 29 (Autumn 2003)     | 3–8         | Buchan, John; 'Science and the state: An address given by His Excellency the Governor-General Lord Tweedsmuir, at the University of British Columbia, March 1939'   |
|                      | 39          | Macdonald, Kate; 'Notes and Queries: JB to feature in exhibition "Trailblazers: Scots in Canada", at National Museum of Scotland'   |
| 30 (Spring 2004)     | 20–22       | Home, Heather; 'John Buchan at the Douglas Library' (at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario)  |
|                      | 44          | Book News: reference to correspondence between Buchan and the British ambassador in Washington  |
|                      | 45          | Book News: 'Niall Ferguson and Empire', referring to Buchan's view that the US is the 'predestined leader' of any federation of nations that accept the rule of law   |
| 31 (Autumn 2004)     | 2–8         | Rivers-Smith, Gordon; 'Scenes from an ADC's life (1935–38)', letters from one of the Governor-General's ADCs describing Buchan's work in Canada   |
|                      | 19–22       | Galbraith, J. William, 'Hollywood in British Columbia'  |
|                      | 33          | Notes and Queries: Buchan in Richmond, Virginia, and in Toronto   |
| 32 (Spring 2005)     | 18          | Gunn, Diarmid; 'Walter Scott to John Buchan: The handing over of a baton?' has a page on Buchan's time as Governor-General of Canada  |
|                      | 24–26       | Notes and Queries: some Buchan web-sites in the US  |
|                      | 29–30       | 'An afternoon of talks and discussion on John Buchan; Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada'  |
|                      | 31–34       | Barlow, Gillian; 'Of Spats and Moccasins: Reflections on archiving and curating the John Buchan papers in Canada'   |
|                      | 35–40       | Henshaw, Peter; 'John Buchan and the invention of post-colonial literature', with special attention to Canada   |
|                      | 49–52       | Haslett, Michael; 'Is Francis Galliard a French Canadian version of the young John Buchan?'   |
|                      | 53–59       | Galbraith, J. William; 'The Canadian impact of John Buchan's appointment as Governor General: Catalyst to sovereignty'  |
|                      | 60–62       | Larocque Poirier, Joanne; 'John Buchan's Legacy: The Governor-General's Literary Awards'  |
| 33 (Autumn 2005)     | 26–27       | Jones, Sylvia; 'Ferris Greenslet's portrait of a friend', reviewing a book by an American saying quite a bit about Buchan's interest in America as well as Canada; cf pp 30, 33 and 35 for more Greenslet quotes on the same subject  |
|                      | 43–44       | Notes and Queries: Gibson, Pat; Canada's declaration of war, 1939   |
| 34 (Spring 2006)     | 2–10        | Redley, Michael; 'Buchan's speech to the Empire Club', includes info on Buchan's visit to Canada and the US in 1924, and the text of his speech to the Empire Club of Canada in Toronto, which also refers to his visit to the US     |
|                      | 18–29       | Henshaw, Peter; 'John Buchan and the invention of Canada, 1902–40'  |

| Journal Issue | Page | Author (when given) and title of article  |
|----------------------|-------------|--|
| 35 (Autumn 2006)     | 2–4         | Buchan, John (Lord Tweedsmuir); ‘The State in Society’; Closing address to a series of public lectures delivered under the auspices of McGill University, Montreal, 1939   |
|                      | 37          | Notes and Queries: Galbraith, J William, ‘Canada’s House: Rideau Hall and the invention of the Canadian Home’  |
| 37 (Autumn 2007)     | 13–17       | Connely, Willard; ‘Willard Connely and the Buchans’; an American student at Oxford who got to know Buchan while there shares his memories of the Buchan family.  |
| 38 (Summer 2008)     | 42–46       | Galbraith, Bill; ‘Foreshadowing Intrepid’ contains much about Buchan in Canada and in visits to the US at the outbreak of WW II  |
|                      | 53          | Notes and Queries: Buchan’s reading list on a two week voyage on Canada’s Mackenzie River  |
| 40 (Autumn 2009)     | 19          | Pollard, Michael; “The same breed” or “an odd brotherhood”? Further reflections on F. S. Oliver and John Buchan’, contains references to Buchan’s knowledge of the American Civil War  |
|                      | 32–34       | Galbraith, J William; ‘A Promised Land: The Buchans in Canada – 1924’  |
|                      | 37–40       | Lownie, Andrew; review of Kate Macdonald, ‘Reassessing John Buchan: beyond The Thirty-Nine Steps’, which contains essays on Buchan’s interest in the US  |
| 41 (Spring 2010)     | 28          | Al-Rawi, Ahmed K.; ‘Comment on Blenkiron’s character in Greenmantle’   |
|                      | 40          | Notes and Queries: note on William Galbraith’s article for the Ottawa Citizen on Buchan and taking pride in Canada  |
| 42 (Autumn 2010)     | 5–12        | Haslett, Michael; ‘Mommsen, Gibbon, Greenidge and Buchan’, much on his influence on Canada’s relations with UK and the US  |
| 43 (Spring 2011)     | 25–28       | Galbraith, William; ‘John Buchan and the Idea of Modernity’ contains two passages dealing with Buchan’s time as Governor-General of Canada, one of them mentioning Buchan’s attempts to strengthen the relationship between the Commonwealth and the US. |
| 44 (Winter 2011)     | 8–11        | Stewart, Eileen; ‘Space, Place and the Border Between’ has some thoughts about Buchan’s role in Canada   |
|                      | 14–23       | Haslett, Michael; ‘Buchan, Canada, Quebec and Sick Heart River ’  |
| 45 (Autumn 2012)     | 70          | Notes and Queries: ‘John Buchan and the Camps in South Africa’, noting Bill Galbraith’s contributions to a debate started by a Canadian book accusing the former Governor-General of being ‘a concentration camp developer and race theorist’.           |
|                      | 71          | Notes and Queries: ‘New Book on JB’, by Bill Galbraith to be entitled John Buchan: Model Governor-General .   |
| 46 (2013)            | 4–14        | Buchan, David, and Buchan, Benjamin; ‘Alastair Buchan: Youngest Son’ refers to a letter from JB to Alastair saying ‘I want you to be, like me, a real lover of America’, and an account of Alastair’s relationship with America and Canada               |
|                      | 44–50       | Redley, Michael; ‘The Path of the King: A Note on Influences’ contains a brief reference Buchan’s intelligence work in WW I and ‘propaganda’ on behalf of Britain in the US.   |
|                      | 51–54       | Buchan, David; review of John Buchan, Model Governor-General , by J. William Galbraith  |
|                      | 55          | Redley, Michael; review of John Buchan and the Idea of Modernity , by Kate Macdonald and Nathan Waddell, saying that one of its essays is on Buchan in Canada by Bill Galbraith   |

| Journal Issue | Page | Author (when given) and title of article  |
|----------------------|-------------|--|
| 47 (2014)            | 15–23       | Redley, Michael; ‘What did John Buchan do in the Great War?’ contains references to Buchan’s propaganda efforts in the American press  |
|                      | 63          | Telford, William; ‘John Buchan and Augustus ’, contains a reference to the effect of the death of George V on Buchan’s work while Governor-General of Canada  |
|                      | 70–72       | Galbraith, J. William; ‘A Year with John Buchan: Model Governor General ’   |
|                      | 78          | Notes and Queries: ‘Buchan to Boulter’, refers to a letter to a friend in England written from Canada by Buchan in November 1939   |
| 48 (2015)            | 3           | Redley, Michael; ‘Editorial’, contains a brief description of some of the things in the Buchan papers at Queen’s University, Kingston Ontario  |
|                      | 4–11        | Selkirk, James; ‘Johnnie Buchan: Oldest Son’, contains info about Buchan Jr’s time in Canada   |
|                      | 30–38       | Hutchings, Kevin; ‘John Buchan, Conservation, and the Democracy of Nature and Sport’ contains much about Buchan’s outdoor activities in Canada while Governor-General  |
|                      | 54–58       | Harwood, Keith; ‘ Musa Piscatrix ’, also contains much about Buchan’s fishing activities in Canada while Governor-General   |
| 49 (2016)            | 4–15        | Buchan, Edward; ‘William Buchan’, contains information about William Buchan’s (John Buchan’s third child’s) time in Canada and New York  |
|                      | 21–28       | Wilcox, Victoria; ‘John Buchan’s Canadian Prime Minister’  |
|                      | 29–36       | Irvine, Andrew David; ‘John Buchan and the Founding of Canada’s Governor General’s Literary Awards’  |
|                      | 49–57       | Buchan, Ursula; ‘John Buchan’s Health’ contains information about the effects of Canadian food on Buchan’s health  |
| 50 (2017)            | 9–19        | Fielder, Jerry; ‘John Buchan and Yousuf Karsh’, about Buchan’s relationship with the Canadian photographer who gained an international reputation  |
|                      | 42–48       | Redley, Michael; ‘Ramsay MacDonald and John Buchan’, contains some information about Buchan’s appointment as Governor-General of Canada  |
|                      | 55–63       | Hutchings, Kevin; ‘John Buchan and the First Nations of Canada’  |
| 51 (2018)            | 8–21        | Irvine, Andrew David; ‘John Buchan and the Universities’, includes much information in regard to Canadian universities, and the honorary degrees he received from Harvard and Yale                                 |
|                      | 35–41       | Buchan, Alex; ‘First Nation Cloak and Headdress Reunited’ (Canada)   |
|                      | 78f         | Notes and Queries: ‘Digitising JB’s Papers’, includes work being done in Canada  |
| 52 (2019)            | 52–60       | Galbraith, Bill, & Redley, Michael; ‘Digitising JB: an Update’, more about the work being done in Canada   |
|                      | 67          | Notes and Queries: ‘Guiding at Rideau Hall in Ottawa’  |
| 53 (2020)            | 3–14        | Buchan, Ursula; ‘John Buchan as Naturalist’ contains more than passing references to Buchan’s interest in Canada’s natural resources   |
|                      | 23–         | Farrow, Celia; ‘Lord Tweedsmuir Today: Lessons from a ‘Model Governor General’ includes information about Buchan’s interest in the US especially with reference to American support for the allies against Germany |
| 54 (2021)            | 44f         | Stonehouse, Ann F.; ‘What’s in a Name? 2: Tweedsmuir Camp, Hut 39’, describes a staging point for the transport of Canadian troops from Canada to Europe during WW II  |
|                      | 48f         | Washburn, Bradford and Freedman Lew; ‘A Canadian Tale’, an account of an American expedition to the Yukon supported by Buchan as Governor-General  |
|                      | 49          | Smith, Sandra; ‘The US Connection’, a note on the first formal visit of a US President to Canada, which took place during Buchan’s Governor-Generalship  |
|                      | 56          | Stewartby, Deborah; ‘Victoria Wilcox (1952–2020), obituary of a Canadian writer who had studied the relationship between Buchan and Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada                                       |

| Journal Issue | Page | Author (when given) and title of article   |
|----------------------|-------------|---|
| 55 (2022)            | 17          | Stewartby, Deborah; ‘Walter Buchan—Who He?’, contains information about Buchan’s time as Governor-General   |
|                      | 37–41       | Chidwick, Tom; ‘John Buchan’s Three Kings’, contains information about Buchan’s time as Governor-General  |
|                      | 42–50       | Rajamae, Pilvi; ‘A Vision of Canada vis-a-vis the USA and ‘Greater Britain’ in John Buchan’s Sick Heart River   |
|                      | 75          | Note: ‘Alastair Francis Buchan 1918–1976’, reference to his newspaper work in Washington DC   |
| 56 (2023)            | 71          | Redley, Michael; ‘Parallel Lives: John Buchan and Winston Churchill’ contains information about Buchan’s attempts to get the support of the US at the outbreak of WW II |
| 57 (2024)            | 66          | Galbraith, J William; ‘Chief Scout for Canada and Camp Buchan’  |
|                      | 72f         | Stonehouse, Ann F.; ‘Astor’s “John Buchan”’ contains a brief mention of the friendship between the American politician and publisher Waldorf Astor                      |